Refuseniks of the recession unite

THE badge below comes from the Dickens branch of the Business Network International. The original quote, "I refuse to participate in a recession", originates from a certain Dr Ivan Misner, apparently, but has since been adopted by the Chatham-based branch. Good attitude, as long as you still have a job. In fact, such a good attitude I think I will forward my badge to Gordon Brown, but perhaps crossing out "a" and adding "your".
